

Consent of immediate payment of open invoices

between A.B.S. Global Factoring AG, Mainzer Str. 97, 65189 Wiesbaden, Germany
(hereinafter also referred to as "A.B.S."), represented by the Management Board and

Under the terms of our purchase financing instrument quickpaid, we have agreed with our Customer

(hereinafter also "Customer")

to provide short-term financing of receivables currently held by you toward our Customer.

Invoice no.	Invoice date	Gross amount
-------------	--------------	--------------

Total amount

We therefore regularly offer to purchase your receivables of this customer, indicating the invoice number, invoice date and the gross invoice amount.

For this we will immediately payout the full invoice amounts less any applicable discounts to your bank account stated on the invoice.

Subject to the suspensive condition of our specific offer of the immediate payment, you already now sell and cede these precisely indicated receivables against this specific customer to us. Thereby you assign these receivables to us with all accessory claims and claims arising from a possible security in return for and upon receipt of payment of the purchase price.

In every case of our offer of the immediate payment you have the possibility to appeal within 2 days. Your rejection needs to be notified to mail@quickpaid.com.

You already now confirm, that the services or goods referred to in the respectively indicated receivables have been rendered by you in full and are free of any defects or pleas, the receivables are freely available and, in particular, have not previously been ceded as part of a factoring arrangement (negative declaration).

If this is exceptionally not the case, you are obliged to inform us within 2 days after our offer of immediate payment to mail@quickpaid.com.

Of course, you can revoke this agreement at any time. This Agreement shall be governed by German law. The rules on privacy and data security published on www.quickpaid.com shall be applicable.
